Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 18 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Drier tonight. Rain and strong winds in west on Friday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers dying out, perhaps quite slowly across northern Scotland. Clear spells allowing a touch of frost in places but this risk receding eastwards later, as cloudier skies with rain and strong winds reaches Northern Ireland and some western mainland fringes.

Friday:
Western and northern areas cloudy, with coastal gales and rain, heavy and persistent across hills, especially later. Further east turning cloudy and breezy with a little rain or drizzle.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Wet and windy for the west Saturday, drier in the east. Often cloudy but with some brighter spells Sunday and Monday. Rain and strong winds for the west later. Mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.